CPP and You; Your Membership Matters

With 2016 coming to a close, I want to personally thank you for your continued support of CPP. Your membership is part of a bigger movement of working together to minimize the risk of construction crime. Melissa Somers

Making The Most of Your Membership

CPP encourages our members to maximize your membership by using a “layered approach” to crime prevention and the many tools CPP has in its arsenal to enhance your loss prevention protocol. Loss prevention - profit protection!

Use a “layered approach” to crime prevention:

- Utilize the OAN (Owner Applied Number) program – It’s FREE and CPP handles the application process (Continue reading to learn more about the OAN program)
- 24/7 Hotline reward stickers and decals
- Inventory and equipment marking guidelines – Large or small, mark it all!
- FREE training

In the event of a loss, please contact CPP immediately:

- CPP will send an alert to our growing network of members and law enforcement contacts
- Local and regional exposure of your incident
- CPP puts hundreds of people on the lookout for your loss, increasing the chances of recovering your stolen equipment.

We’re here to help!

Why Your Company Needs An O.A.N. (Owner Applied Number)

An Owner Applied Number (OAN) is a government issued, company specific number that is recognizable by law enforcement as an “official” number. An OAN can be used to mark heavy equipment and its attachments, smaller equipment like generators, hand tools and even office equipment.

CPP encourages all of our members to utilize the OAN program as an effective additional layer of protection in the event of a theft. We use our resources to get your company OAN assigned in a timely manner so you can start marking your equipment within days of requesting the application. Getting your OAN is free and easy – and CPP handles the paperwork for you!

Call or email today to request your OAN:

Time To Update Your Company’s Contact Info!

As we approach 2017, we’d like to make sure that CPP has your current and complete company contact information. We want to ensure your company can maximize the benefits of a CPP membership and receive bulletins, safety and prevention tips and, coming in 2017, new training opportunities. Please take a moment to complete the enclosed member information form and return it to CPP via email, mail or even snap a photo with your phone and text it to Melissa Somers, Executive Director of CPP.

Feel free to add additional individuals to the email list so more of your employees have access to our prevention bulletins, theft alerts and events!

A Friendly Reminder from CPP

If your company suffers a loss, we want to hear about it and do all that we can to assist in recovering your equipment.

CPP is here to act as your liaison with our law enforcement partners and to put the word out about your missing equipment to all of our members, law enforcement contacts and our industry and regional partners – We’re here to help!

Incident reports are available on our website or you can request one by calling or emailing the CPP office.
